

Sing Along with Milt!

Together tomorrow, today and forever. Around both day and night.
Look, listen, learn to love, the words we use to read and write.
Always try to do your best. If you try you can be great.
These small rules you all should know by the time that you are turning eight.

Chorus:

I'm Milt the talking Musky, stranger to the land. If you want to sing along to help with school, I'd like to lend a hand.

I'm Milt the talking Musky, yellow, brown and green. I'm a fish of my word.
Follow along and see just what I mean.

Do your homework after school. Read a book with Mom or Dad.
You know the difference between wrong and right.
It's fun to sing at home or in worship when you can.
Say your prayers, hug your family each and every night.

Chorus:
